Report on the Office of Emergency Management Volunteer Programs

Subject

Report on the Office of Emergency Management Volunteer Programs

Recommended Action

Receive a report from the City of Cupertino on the Office of Emergency Management (OEM) Volunteer activity, including Raising Emergency Awareness of Community Hazards (REACH), Block Leaders, Neighborhood Watch, and Cupertino Citizen Corps programs.

Reasons for Recommendation

Volunteers contributed 3,867 hours to the City in 2023. Based on the Bureau of Labor Statistics' average wage in San Jose for Community and Social Service work, this contribution represents a value of $141,216.00. Participation was highest during winter when volunteers shared emergency messaging about extreme weather events. Volunteer participation for each of the programs affiliated with OEM is detailed in Attachment A. Volunteer programs include the following:

- Block Leader Program
The Block Leader Program teaches residents how to get to know neighbors and organize activities so neighbors can more easily communicate. Block leaders receive updates on neighborhood activities and services and are vital links between City Hall and the neighborhoods.
- Neighborhood Watch Program
Neighborhood Watch is a crime prevention program that enlists the active participation of residents in cooperation with law enforcement to reduce crime in their communities.
- Citizen Corps Program
Cupertino Citizen Corps is a network of volunteer groups essential to the City's preparedness and resilience. This Program includes the Cupertino Amateur Radio Emergency Service (CARES), Cupertino Emergency Response Team (CERT), and the Medical Reserve Corps (MRC). Attachment B includes a detailed summary of Citizen Corps activities for 2023.
- REACH Program (Raising Emergency Awareness of Community Hazards)

The REACH program shares public messaging about extreme weather events with the community through all OEM registered volunteers. It provides the City and the community with a tool to amplify public safety information widely among residents, focusing on reaching vulnerable populations. Activity for the REACH program in 2023 is included in Attachment C.

Sustainability Impact

No sustainability impact.

Fiscal Impact

To affix a value to volunteer time, OEM looked for a way to consider the hourly wage volunteers would make as employees of the City. Volunteers contribute a broad scope of work that aligns most closely with the Community and Social Service category of work reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics \(BLS\).¹ According to the BLS, the average hourly wage in San Jose for Community and Social Service work is $38.51. This wage is multiplied by 2,667 hours worked by OEM volunteers in 2023, which yields $148,901.00. This estimate does not account for the range of volunteer activities throughout the year, which may be valued above or below the BLS estimate. The estimate offers an initial measurement of the value of volunteer time to the city.

Estimated Value of Volunteer Time 2023
Bureau of Labor Statistics Community and Social Service Work Hourly Wage in San Jose, 2022	City Office of Emergency Management Hours contributed by volunteers in 2023	Approximate cost savings based on BLS hourly wage estimate
$38.51 x	2691.77 hrs (Citizen Corps)	=$103,660.00
$38.51 x	689.12 hrs (Block Leaders)	=$26,538.00
$38.51 x	485.68 (Neighborhood Watch)	=$18,703.00
	Total 3866.57 hrs	=$148,901.00

Public Safety Commission Report on the Office of Emergency Management Volunteer Program

C – Raising Emergency Awareness of Community Hazards Report 2023

The Raising Emergency Awareness of Community Hazards (REACH) report summarizes all REACH activities in 2023 and summarizes membership and program metrics. The REACH program shares public safety information related to extreme weather events or air quality and directs residents to resources available to support life safety during these events. Examples include sharing information about the location of public buildings with heating, cooling, or filtered air. The National Weather Service (NWS) issues products with information about weather events based on their prediction for community impacts. The thresholds identified by the NWS trigger the City to utilize the REACH program.

Accomplishments 2023:

- The City shared REACH messages about eleven different public safety events with volunteers participating in OEM volunteer programs in 2023.
- At the City's request, volunteers shared this information with their communities. The table below offers information on how many community members were reached with information during these events.
- City outreach emphasizes the importance of sharing information widely with physical and virtual communities. It encourages volunteers to translate messages if they are comfortable sharing information in another language. Public safety information focuses on tips for reaching and preparing individuals who may be more vulnerable to the impacts of different events, such as older people or people living with inadequate shelter, heating, or cooling.
- Beginning in 2024, the program will enforce the requirement that Block Leaders participate in the REACH program.

Reasons for Recommendation

Review of City emergency preparedness activities: training and exercise

On March 7, 2024, OEM trained City staff in the Emergency Operations Center. The training prepared staff to switch from daily responsibilities to responding in an emergency. On March 14, 2024, City staff participated with public safety partners and community-based organizations in an exercise where a coordinated response to a catastrophic earthquake was practiced.

Review of community emergency preparedness efforts

The City published an online platform for residents to visualize current hazards impacting the City. The Hazards Dashboard is available through the Current Incidents webpage and includes evacuation numbers, power outage impacts, and weather advisories.¹

Review of emergency planning activities

Consultants are providing feedback on the existing Emergency Operations Plan with recommendations for the 2024 plan update.

The Multi-Jurisdictional Hazard Mitigation Plan (MJHMP) and the City of Cupertino Annex

¹ <https://www.cupertino.org/our-city/departments/public-safety-programs/emergency-management/current-event-disaster-information>

to this Plan will be presented to the Public Safety Commission this year before it is presented to the City Council. The Public Safety Commission presentation will also review Community Wildfire Protection Plan updates.

Review of emergency response activities

During atmospheric river and winter weather events in February 2024, OEM shared public information about severe weather hazards and protective actions. Public information is shared with the community in multiple ways during severe weather events based on the National Weather Service forecast.
