A Message from the City Manager

Hello Neighbors,

Cupertino is starting the year with exciting momentum. From national recognition for our residents' exceptional money management skills to new businesses opening their doors, along with programs that support safety, sustainability, and local economic vitality, there is so much happening across the City.

In this update, you will find a variety of opportunities to stay engaged and informed. We're also sharing an update on how the City communicates through platforms like Nextdoor, so residents can easily recognize official City information. Learn how to participate in Big Game festivities, strengthen your emergency preparedness through programs such as CERT, explore updates on alternative transportation within our community, and stay informed about e-bike safety. Together, these efforts reflect Cupertino's continued commitment to a safe, vibrant, and connected community.
