Open Space Resource Management Specialist Matthew Sharp gave the commission a presentation on Wildlife in the area. He spoke about Project Coyote, which offers workshops for the public. The workshop focuses on educating the public on how to avoid attracting coyotes into their neighborhood.

Commissioner Huang expressed interest in potentially hosting a workshop in the Rancho San Antonio area. Commissioner Huang added that he has noticed an increased sighting of coyotes, deer, mountain lions, wild turkeys, and flocks of 50-100 crows. The crows have been causing damage to lawns.

Commissioner McCoy also expressed the sighting of coyotes in and around the Regnart Creek Trail area near city hall.

Mr. Sharp advised that if there is an immediate public safety concern anyone can contact Fish and Game so as to help with removal of the animals. Mr. Sharp advised that if you encounter a mountain lion, make yourself look big, flap your jacket big, make loud noise, never bend down to pick anything up, throw something (even your cell phone) straight at the animal. If you are on a hike with children keep them close to you and if you encounter a mountain lion put the child behind you and do the suggested distractions to scare them off. To minimize coyotes in the neighborhoods, do not leave food out for them and do not feed them. Also, keep all shrubs cut down in yards so that coyotes cannot make a hidden den for themselves. Motion lights and motion sprinklers also keep coyotes away. Making loud noises when coyotes are nearby can help change their behavior.

STAFF AND COMMISSION REPORTS

The structure fire had a monetary loss of about $2,000 in property loss. The second fire was due to a kitchen fire, no injuries were reported.

Assistant Fire Chief Glass also went on to report that during the month of October there were 353 calls for service, there was an increase in calls for service due to the power outages that took place.

The money loss for the year so far has been under $100,000. There were 21 safety events for the month of October.

Captain Urena gave a brief overview of the two robberies that occurred during the month of October. He completed his report by giving an overview on the domestic violence incidents in the month of October.

On October 6, 2019

Victim husband called to report suspect wife threw hot coffee at him while he was holding their one year old child, and the coffee hit both him and the child. Wife was arrested and booked into Main Jail.

On October 15, 2019

The victim boyfriend called to report his suspect boyfriend hit him after an argument over infidelity. The suspect punched the victim in the head several times with a closed fist, threw the victim to the ground and kicked the victim in the ribs, causing the victim pain and a red mark on his head. The suspect was arrested and booked into Main Jail.

On October 19, 2019

A nurse at a local Health Center called to report domestic violence involving a patient. The victim left the facility before police response, saying it wasn't a big deal. 9. Subject: Report by the City of Cupertino

10. Subject: Commissioner Reports

Recommended Action: Receive Commissioner's Reports

Commissioner Sahai shared that next year's safety forum should be more carefully planned so that it does not shadow other presentations that are so closely planned. That would hopefully have a better turnout. Captain Urena suggested hosting a day time Safety Forum to see if the time would accommodate more residents.

Commissioner Nellore shared some feedback that he received from residents. He explained that turning right onto Bollinger Rd. from Estates Dr. is difficult due to a blind spot. Residents have brought this complained to Commissioner Nellore in hopes of having the city review the location of the stop sign. Commissioner Nellore suggested that maybe a large mirror could be installed so that the traffic trying to make the turn could see a vehicle approaching.

Captain Urena responded that he would have the Traffic Unit go out and monitor the area so that the observation can be taken back to the city.

Captain Urena thanked Commissioner Sahai for attending the Mayor's Meeting and asked that a commissioner attend future meetings so as to always have representation.
